OPPORTUNITIES & RISKS CONSIDERATIONS

Opportunities: The conversion right offers participation in the increase of share prices. The bond part offers protection in weak equity markets. The addition of convertible bonds of midsize companies allows participation in the development of this dynamic market segment. The asymmetric nature of convertible bonds claims to achieve a superior risk-return relationship in comparison to a combination of bonds and stocks. Risks: Risks that are not included in the risk classification but are of importance for the fund: Credit risk: the fund invests part of its capital (directly or through derivatives) in bonds and/or money market instruments. It is possible that the issuers of these securities become insolvent or suffer downgrades in their credit rating. Hence these bonds and/or money market instruments (or credit derivatives) might lose some or all of their value. Liquidity risk: there is a risk that a position cannot be liquidated in time at an appropriate price. This risk can also result in the suspension of share redemption. Default risk: The fund closes contracts with different contract parties. There is the risk that a contract party e.g. in the case of insolvency cannot honour the claims of the fund. Operational risk, custody risk: Due to the failure of internal processes / systems or due to external events (e.g. natural disasters) losses are possible. There is the risk of loss of the assets of the fund due to insolvency, non-diligence or illegal conduct of the custodian or an under-custodian. Risk by using derivatives: Derivatives are permitted to be used not only for protective purposes but also actively in the investment process whereby the risk of price swings in the price of the fund increases. For details about the risks please refer to the fund prospectus.
